

PR Account Directors/Managers – Full/Part Time.

I'm currently looking for full or part time account managers/directors to work on a growing B2B client list across a range of sectors including marketing services, technology, professional services, print, architecture & restaurants.

Degree level applicants with experience in one of those sectors would be ideal though I'd also be interested to talk to those with good general experience or who have a proposal to develop a client base in a new sector (including consumer PR).

This opportunity would suit bright, established PR professionals who have confidence in their abilities and are now looking for a chance of more autonomy, full or part time within a flexible, entrepreneurial, politics free environment with some home working.

The sort of person I envisage will get a buzz out of exploiting every possible PR opportunity for their client, enjoy lots of customer & editorial contact and have excellent writing and telephone skills.

As an ambitious small company, anyone involved at this stage in the company's development will have a rare ground floor opportunity to build an exciting, fast growth career with no potential limit to professional or financial development.

Please apply by email with CV in confidence to Ross Furlong – MD.

P.S. If at this stage you'd only like to have an informal chat with a view to possible future opportunities, please do also get in touch – it's a marathon not a sprint as they say.
